

I continue to be utterly outraged over the "stunt" pulled by Janet Jackson and Justin Timberlake. In my household children under the age of seven saw this cheap, crass and deplorable half time show. I believe formal charges should be brought against BOTH Jackson and Timberlake along with a million plus fine. I also believe Viacom, CBS and MTV should also have multi million dollar fines levied against them. Only when they have to pay these fines will these self centered idiots think of someone else other than themselves, their ratings and the almighty dollar. I fully expect the FCC to conduct a full investigation and bring charges and fines forth. I DO NOT believe this was unintentional on Jackson's and Timberlake's behalf. I DO NOT believe that CBS and MTV were unaware of the content of the show. And should you find they were unaware then they still need to be held accoutnable for NOT knowing. That's their job. The entire nation and the nation's families are owed this much.
